

MANUEL BARRUECO

Classical Guitar

Manuel Barrueco is internationally recognized as one of the most important guitarists of our time. His unique artistry has been continually described as that of a superb instrumentalist and a superior and elegant musician, possessing a seductive sound and uncommon lyrical gifts.

His career has been dedicated to bringing the guitar to the main musical centers of the world. During three decades of concertizing, he has performed across the United States from the New World Symphony in Miami to the Seattle Symphony, and from the Hollywood Bowl with the Los Angeles Philharmonic to New York's Lincoln Center.

He has appeared with such prestigious orchestras as the Philadelphia Orchestra and with the Boston Symphony under the direction of Seiji Ozawa, in the American Premiere of Toru's Takemitsu's To the Edge of Dream. In addition, he appears regularly with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra and with San Francisco Performances.

His international tours have taken him to some of the most important musical centers in the world. Highlights include the Musikverein in Vienna, Concertgebouw in Amsterdam, Royal Albert Hall in London, Philharmonie in Berlin, Teatro Real in Madrid, and Palau de la Musica in Barcelona. In Asia he has completed a dozen tours of Japan and made repeated appearances in Korea, Taiwan, Singapore, China, and Hong Kong. Barrueco's tours of Latin America have included performances in Mexico, Brazil, Colombia, Costa Rica, Panama and Puerto Rico.

He has also performed as a guest soloist with other international orchestras, such as the Russian State Symphony, Helsinki Philharmonic, Royal Philharmonic, NHK Symphony, New Japan Philharmonic, Auckland Symphony in New Zealand, Orquestra Sinfonica do Estado de Sao Paulo (OSESF), in Sao Paulo, Brazil, and the radio symphonies of Munich and Frankfurt.

This coming season 2016-2017 includes solo recitals in the United States, Canada, Germany, Spain, and Italy, an appearance with the Puerto Rico Symphony and conductor Max Valdes, performances with the Cuarteto Casals in the United States, and the Beijing Guitar Duo in the United States and Europe. He will continue being an Artist-in-residence for the University of Alicante, Spain. In the 2017-2018 concert season, Mr. Barrueco will offer two solo tours in Europe (November 2017 and March 2018).

Barrueco's commitment to contemporary music and to the expansion of the guitar repertoire has led him to collaborations with many distinguished composers such as Steven Stucky, Michael Daugherty, Roberto Sierra, Arvo Pärt, Jonathan Leshnoff, Gabriela Lena Frank, Dmitri Yanov-Yanovsky, and Toru Takemitsu, whose last orchestral work Spectral Canticle was a double concerto written specifically for Manuel Barrueco and violinist Frank Peter Zimmerman.

Manuel Barrueco has appeared on a wide array of television programs including "CBS Sunday Morning", A&E's "Breakfast with the Arts", and "Mister Rogers' Neighborhood" on PBS. He was featured in a Lexus car commercial, and his work in music inspired Michael Lawrence's biographical documentary: "Manuel Barrueco: A Gift and a Life" which has been aired by PBS stations around the United States. Barrueco's performances have been broadcast by television stations around the world such as NHK in Japan, Bayerische Rundfunk in Germany, and RTVE in Spain.

Barrueco's recording catalogue includes over a dozen recordings for the EMI label. His recording of Joaquín Rodrigo's Concierto de Aranjuez with conductor and tenor Plácido Domingo and the Philharmonia Orchestra was cited as the best recording of that piece in Classic CD Magazine. His Koch Classics release, Concierto Barroco, with the Orquesta Sinfónica de Galicia and conductor Víctor Pablo Pérez, received a Latin Grammy nomination for "Best Classical Recording." His early recordings, available on VOX, have become a classic amongst guitar recordings.

In 2007 Manuel Barrueco received a Grammy nomination for the "Best Instrumental Soloist Performance" for his Solo Piazzolla, which was the first recording to be released on the exclusive Manuel Barrueco Collection on Tonar Music. Tango Sensations and Sounds of the Americas came out subsequently in collaboration with the Cuarteto Latinoamericano, the latter received a Latin Grammy Award for "Inca Dances" by Gabriela Lena Frank for "Best Classical Contemporary Composition." Virtuoso Guitar Duos was released in 2009 and includes the most breathtaking guitar duos from the Spanish and Latin-American repertoire. In 2010 he released a solo recording, Tárrega!, which includes works and arrangements of the Spanish composer Francisco Tárrega and which received a Latin Grammy nomination for "Best Classical Album." His latest release Chaconne—A Baroque Recital came out in 2012.

This past season he released two recordings: Medea, which includes Barrueco's arrangement of the ballet by flamenco guitarist/composer Manolo Sanlúcar recorded with the Tenerife Symphony Orchestra and Víctor Pablo Pérez conducting, and China West, a recording of guitar trios in collaboration with his protégés, the Beijing Guitar Duo (Meng Su & Yameng Wang).

Manuel Barrueco began playing the guitar at the age of eight, and he attended the Esteban Salas Conservatory in his native Cuba. He immigrated with his family to the United States in 1967, as political refugees. Later, he completed his advanced studies at the Peabody Conservatory of Music, where he now shares his love for music with a small number of exceptionally gifted young guitarists from all over the world.

In 2011, Manuel Barrueco received the United States Artist Fontanals Fellowship for Artistic Excellence.

MANUEL BARRUECO*Concert Reviews:

"Manuel Barrueco's guitar recital at Alice Tully Hall was the work not just of a guitarist, but of a superior musician."
New York Times

"A major artist with remarkable musicianship and a world of technique... simply and consistently - - awesome."
Los Angeles Times

"An elegant musician and aristocrat of the guitar..."
Dallas Times Herald

"Even at his showiest, Barrueco remained ... a musician of utter taste and intelligence."
St. Louis Post-Dispatch

"Barrueco is rare among guitarist for the excitement and the wealth of color he instills in the music he performs. The range of temperament and shading is so varied as to give each work on his program a distinctive sound, a fresh aura."
Milwaukee Journal

"He is a superb instrumentalist with a seductive sound and uncommon lyrical gifts."
Dallas Morning News

"Listening to the Suite No. 2 of Bach, in which the expressive security was translated into melodic passages of clear perfection, one thought spontaneously of the great interpreters, like Wanda Landowska."
Il Tempo, Rome, Italy

"With his conscientious obedience to the intentions of the composers, his spotless technical virtuosity, his sensitive use of the possibilities of differentiation of sonorous colors, Barrueco introduced himself as the undisputed crown prince of the present guitar dynasty."
Courant, The Hague

"Even more impressive that the overwhelming technique is Barrueco's musicality. This evening of solo playing overflowed with subtleties and conveyed and encounter with an extraordinarily cultivated musician."
Stuttgarter Zeitung,
Germany

"The results, it's safe to say, were magical."
Los Angeles Times

"The guitar is an instrument that is cradled in the arms next to the heart. When Barrueco plays, it speaks to the heart."
Baltimore Sun

"Somewhere from the heavens, Segovia was surely smiling down."
The Palm Beach Post

"...a warmth and a singing quality that would undoubtedly have made Segovia smile."
The New York Times

"Manuel Barrueco... gave a superbly polished recital at the 92d Street Y. ... Mr. Barrueco's recital was a picture of stylistic breadth."
The New York Times

MANUEL BARRUECORecording Reviews:

"Manuel Barrueco is one of the best classical guitarist on the planet...
Barrueco's readings [of Albéniz & Turina] set new standards for musicianship..."

Audio

"[On Albéniz & Turina] Another artistic triumph from the great Cuban guitarist."

American Record Guide

"This disc, [Bach & de Visée] with Barrueco's Albéniz and Villa-Lobos discs, together demonstrate mastery of many different aspects of the guitar; a triptych of excellence that is surely without precedent."

Classical Guitar Magazine

"[Granados & de Falla] Manuel Barrueco consistently produces some of the most gorgeous guitar recordings available today."

Soundboard

"[on Sometime Ago] ...the best-sounding guitar records of any major artist."

American Record Guide

"...the rightness of these interpretations [Chick Corea and Keith Jarrett from Sometime Ago] is attributable to Barrueco's phenomenal technique."

Acoustic Guitar

"[on Granados & Falla] ...invaluable, a national treasure... Another year for Barrueco and another year's best."

American Record Guide

"[On the Bach Violin Sonatas] We have come to expect superb performances from Barrueco and in these works we get them. These are performances of dignity and distinction"

Gramophone

"[on the Rodrigo CD] The four songs [Placido Domingo] sings with Barrueco's accompaniment are really gorgeous."

Fanfare Magazine

"[on the Rodrigo CD] This is a virtually ideal Rodrigo disc."

Classic CD Magazine

"[On Cantos y Danzas] ...this is a superb recording, one to be acquired and treasured."

Gramophone

"[On Cantos y Danzas] This singularly attractive CD by one of EMI's superstars actually lives up to its promise, for Cuban-born guitarist Manuel Barrueco is a magnificent technician with comparable artistic abilities."

Fanfare Magazine

"Manuel Barrueco's new version [of the Concierto de Aranjuez] is the best."
